PHANTOMACE · SHORTS & TIKTOK BOT

What I need from you to get it running

I'm setting up an automated tool that takes your best Twitch clips and turns them into vertical videos (YouTube Shorts + TikTok), sorted by game so each game posts to the right account. I'll handle all the technical work. A few things can only be done by you, because they involve your own accounts and your brand — none of it needs any coding.

⏱ About 1–2 hours of your time total, most of it in one screen-share session with me.

1 Give the go-ahead

Confirm you're happy for your clips to be re-posted to YouTube and TikTok, and tell me:

- Which games should be promoted, and which account each game's clips should post to (one account for everything, or a separate YouTube channel per game — your call).
- Roughly how often and how many per day (my default is 2 per account per day).

2 Make sure the destination accounts exist

- The YouTube channel(s) you want the Shorts to land on. If you want a separate channel per game, create those channels (I can walk you through it).
- The TikTok account you want to post to.

These stay fully yours. I never need your passwords.

3 Sit with me for one setup session (~30–45 min)

We'll do these together on a screen share. You'll do the logging-in and clicking “Allow”; I'll handle everything around it:

- Connect each YouTube channel — you sign in and approve access so the tool can upload to that channel.
- Connect the TikTok account — same idea: you sign in and approve.
- Accept the YouTube and TikTok terms when prompted (you're the account holder, so it has to be you).

4 TikTok's approval step (I prepare, you submit)

TikTok requires an app to pass a short review before it's allowed to post videos publicly. Until that's approved, TikTok posts will arrive as private drafts that you finish posting from the TikTok app yourself.

- I'll prepare the whole submission.
- You'll review it and submit it under your brand.
- Meanwhile, YouTube can go fully live right away — we don't have to wait on TikTok.

What you keep control of

- You can disconnect the tool at any time from your Google and TikTok account settings — no involvement from me needed.
- All the accounts, channels, and the videos are yours. If we ever stop working together, you keep everything and I lose access, not the other way around.
- I never store your passwords. The tool only gets a revocable “permission slip” to post, which lives on your streaming rig.

What you don't need to worry about

I handle all of this: building and running the tool, the video editing/branding, choosing the clips, the server setup, and keeping it running.

That's it — once we've done the setup session, it runs on its own.
